The Senate Order identifies three types of confidentiality provisions:

- Contract: Provisions that make specific information contained in the contract confidential (referred to in the Order as 'provisions requiring the parties to maintain confidentiality of any of its provisions')
- Outputs: Provisions that make specific information obtained or generated in carrying out the contract confidential. This information cannot be specifically identified when the contract is entered into (referred to in the Order as 'other requirements of confidentiality').
- General: Provisions readily found in Commonwealth contracts that protect Commonwealth material, personal information and trade secrets amongst other things.

Standard Categories of confidential information:

- Disclosure would reveal trade secrets which are judged to have the potential to cause detriment to the contractor.
- Disclosure would reveal the contractor's internal costing information or information about its profit margin.
- Disclosure would be contrary to the public interest.
- Disclosure would be contrary to the statutory secrecy provisions.
- Disclosure would be contrary to the Privacy Act.
