BROUGHTON HOUSE SCHOOL,

SITUATE at Broughton, near the residences of Captain Perry, and John Ryan Brenan, Esq., P.M., and within a short distance of Balmain Ferry.

The House is very commodious and well suited for the purpose, having extensive Play Ground attached, and close to Sea Bathing.

Mr. WALPOLE feels it unnecessary to add any thing respecting himself as a teacher, having for the last two years been honoured by the patronage and support of several gentlemen of the highest respectability in this colony, who have entrusted their sons to his care and tuition.

The School is designed for the education of Protestants exclusively, and the religious and moral principles form its prominent feature. The public are requested to visit this establishment as it is presumed few are aware of its numerous advantages.

Terms moderate, and no extras.

The road leading to Broughton is the first turning off the Parramatta Road, at the Sydney side of Mr. Norton's.

EXTENSIVE IMPORTATION BY 'THE "FANNY" OF LINEN DRAPERY, HOSIERY, HABERDASHERY, FANCY GOODS, &c., &c.

MESSRS. BULL AND GARNHAM (from Howell and James's) respectfully intimate that they will, THIS DAY, the 31st of July, have arranged for inspection an elegant, useful, varied, and exceedingly cheap stock of the newest and best French and British manufactured Goods, being the whole of the first purchase of Mr. Garnham in Paris and London, selected by him expressly for their trade in Sydney.

Messrs. Bull and Garnham have great pleasure in inviting the attention of their numerous friends to this new choice of goods, feeling assured the novelty, style, variety, and above all the moderation of price, will give every satisfaction.

The Firm, in duty bound, return their best thanks for the very handsome support of the past two years; and hope, by the great advantage of possessing a thorough knowledge of the drapery business, to ever prove themselves worthy of its continuation and extension.

3, George-street South.
