The Humane Society.—This excellent society, directly the frost set in, went to work with their usual activity, to provide for the public safety. The first measure was, to set the horses’ and cows’ work breaking the ice on the roads. This work took place on the various pieces of water, so that any one relying on the strength of the ice would probably get a ducking at the outset, and thus give to the society the merit of having saved, in this way, much individual loss which might have fallen in the ice. The humane arrangements of the excellent body alluded to. Among the other "admirable arrangements" is, the throwing of fine salt all across the ice, for skaters and others to tumble over; to say nothing of the splendid idea of making a large hole, and sticking up a pole in the middle of it, surmounted with the word "Dangerous." There is no doubt that the society means uncommonly well; but when the board next meets, we should like to suggest, that the humane character of the association might be, just as well be preserved by conserving the existing objects who have got into the water, instead of extending its benevolence to breaking the ice for the mere love of adding in cases of accident.

LADIES’ REGISTER.

London and Paris Fashions for March.—In full dress both skirts and bodices continue to be made long, particularly the corsetage, which have very deep points, and the backs are very long waisted and rounded; this style is termed Misses’ Robes, those de Style Tournais are also very long, and those de Montsopan are with points both before and behind. Skirts are not worn so much extended by the under skirt; the medium between the very boufous, or the drooping skirt, is now become the fashionable style. The most elegant materials for full dress are the satin brocades with gold or silver, some of which are intermixed with coloured embroidery, watered silks plaids with silver or gold threads, and guazes embroidered with crochets and for young ladies the new material is termed la dent tissu; very elegant dresses of this have been made spotted with silver, and ornamented with silver bows. Many dresses of gauze lace are of two colours, with trimmings of quilled ribbon in reversed folds of two shades. A new kind of tulle à la Fontange, which is very clear, is used for the double and triple flounces on silk dresses. Brides are much used for trimming black dresses, and a crest want of satin, berret, &c.; fringe fringes of three widths are placed as flounces. Blond is also turning to favour. The hair is dressed higher and wider, the back being generally twisted and ornamented with a spray of flowers; wreaths are also much in favour, as well as large flowers. The coiffures for balls and soirées are in great variety; turbans of rich materials with velvets, the coiffures Blanche de Cassel Anne, shop on Mount St, and Coiffeurs de la Lumière, Coiffeur de la Belle-Epoque, Nison, are among the favorites. Casquetes for young ladies have been made with full crowns, with coulissé, and ornamented by quillings of ribbon; watered silk bonnets; new appearing, and white satin ones lined with pink have a long white feather.

SALES BY AUCTION.

UPON THE GROUND.

City Property.
Seven valuable Building Allotments, situate in Prince and Cumberland-streets, immediately adjoining Colo House.

Title, Grant from the Crown.

Mr. Blackman has been honoured with instructions from the Proprietor, Joseph Moore, Esq., to dispose of this attractive property by auction, on Tuesday, the 18th instant, Upon the Ground, (instead of at the Rooms, as previously advertised) at One o’clock precisely.

IN SEVEN LOTS.

THIRTY-THREE and a-half perches,
Parish of St. Phillip, County of Cumberland: bounded on the west by the building line of Prince-street, bearing south, seventy degrees, west one hundred and sixty and a half links; on the south by allotment number thirteen, bearing east seven degrees, north one hundred and forty-seven links; on the east by Cumberland-street, bearing north three degrees and thirty minutes, west one hundred and fifty-five links: and on the north by allotments Nos. 15 and 16, bearing west seven degrees, north one hundred and sixty links: being allotment No. 14 of section
No. 78.

CITY OF SYDNEY.

This property has long been known by the name of Sea View, and is a beautiful situation for private residences, well deserving the marked attention of small capitalists, particularly at the present time, as building material is to be had at extremely low prices, at once affording a most favourable opportunity to invest money in a secure and profitable way.

Plans of this valuable City Property may be viewed at the office of the auctioneer.
Terms and conditions at time of sale.

TOWN PROPERTY.

Of the most available description, producing £1 15s. per week,

IN PRINCE-STREET, NORTH,
Adjoining the Premises of Thomas Hyndes,
Esq., formerly Captain Bland’s, 33, On the Ground, by Mr. Stubbs.

Mr. Stubbs announces instructions received from Mr. Macgrath, previous to his departure for Ireland, to sell by Public Auction, on the Ground, Prince-street, on Thursday, the 17th day of August, 1843.
at One o’clock precisely,

A. all that splendid Ereehold Estate, in Prince-street, known as Macgrath’s two storied house.

CELLAR FLOOR.
The Cellar Floor has been extensively transformed into an excellent family kitchen, with baking and other ranges complete.

STREET FLOOR.
The entrance from the street is under a lofty verandah, into the hall, with a pretty parlor in front, and dining-room at the back, both neatly finished.

SECOND FLOOR.
The upper floor is particularly distinguished for neatness of design and comfort. By a very convenient staircase you come to a singularly comfortable and agreeable parlor in front, ornamented with French lights, leading to the upper verandah, which overlooks the western waters, and shipping of Darling Harbour generally.

SECOND FLOOR.
At the back is a gentleman’s perfect ‘Studi,’ which, commanding the Eastern view of the Harbour, the landscape presented to the astonished admirer is such as the pencil of the “Italian Masters” could only faulti-fully portray.

ATTIC STORY.
The Attic Story has two fine airy bedrooms.
The conditions of Sale will be most desirable, and the whole will be sold to the highest bidder.

Note.—Entrance by Prince-street, through folding doors to the yard, stable, laundry, &c.
That very eligible, pleasantly situated, and comfortable residence, with about two acres of extensively valuable land attached, just above Baptist’s Market Gardens.

The garden is in a high state of cultivation, and full crop, having been enriched, from time to time, with upwards of a thousand loads of well mixed manure. Any further recommendation of its vegetable character is therefore unnecessary.

The house is 33 feet long by 26 wide, more or less, and what, amongst the social comforts of life, is not very usual in Sydney, a splendid verandah runs all round it, panelled and flagged to the width of five feet.

The ground floor there are four rooms, dining, sitting, parlour, bedroom, and an extra room, with entrance hall, staircase, leading to the landing place, and the two upstairs sleeping apartments.

Besides a good back kitchen, yard, stables, 31 by 14, more or less, and paddock in the rear.

The above property

Mr. Stubbs is instructed by Mr. MacGrath, to submit to public competition on Thursday, the 17th day of August, 1843, at the Mart, King-street, sale at twelve o’clock precisely.

Admitted that every person knows the enviable enjoyment of living at the Surry Hills, yet it does not follow consequently that every spot may be equally desirable, nor can they be fairly so described, unless like this site, they can command such a luxurious view over the Botany waters, and all its surrounding picturesque country—not forgetting Mr. Baptist’s celebrated fruit, vegetable, and floral grounds.

Mr. Stubbs therefore waits till the hour of sale to point out such advantages to every one, requiring an economical and complete retreat on the edge, as it were, of a bustling city, as cannot fail to ensure a buyer, upon terms that will put comparative purchases out of the question.

Great Spring Sale

of Brood Mares, Colts, Fillies, and Ponies.

The highly improved Stud, from the Waldenham Station, on the Jugeen River, bred by Charles Nichols, Esq.,

Mr. Stubbs notifies instructions received from the Agent of Richard Brownlow, Esq., to sell by Public Auction, at the New Castle Market, bottom of George-street, on Friday, the 18th day of August, 1843, to commence at Eleven o’clock precisely, the unmentioned stud of valuable Blooded Mares, Colts, &c., &c., &c.

EIGHT BLOOD BAY MARES.

One ditto piebald Mare

One ditto black Mare

One grey

Three chestnuts

Colts.

Ten superior bred Colts

Six superior bred Fillies

Eleven Foals

Five Ponies

Terms made known at the Sale.

The Right Time to Buy.

Gentlemen and experienced breeders of horse-stock generally are well aware that this month is precisely the very season of the year when horses are bought to the best advantage, and kept at the least expenses.

In a stock like his (now offered for public competition) where action, strength, power, and speed, are united to blood, symmetry, and temper, it cannot be inferred otherwise than that all is obtained at this sale, that is required for keeping up the right breed, whether for the turf, field, carriage use, equestrian enjoyment, or general use.

And known as the stock is, both in town and country, it is to be hoped that good judges require little else to attract their attention, and less to ensure their attendance at the Cattle Market, at the hour set down, on Friday, the 18th instant.

The Great Political Era!

See Sydney Herald.

Property secured and confidence restored in new South Wales.

By His Excellency the Governor.

Who has promised his cheerful and cordial co-operation in every matter connected with the best interests and welfare of the Colony, and who has also assured the colonists that it was a matter of great satisfaction to him, and would ever form a most pleasing recollection during his life, that it had fallen to his lot to have had the distinguished honour of introducing into the Colony those institutions of self-government which formed the boast and safeguard of the race from which they had sprung; and he confidently hoped that those institutions would be found to answer all the purposes which were expected from them.

To Capitalists, Storkeeps, &c., Tradesmen, M. chaises, Dealers, and all persons having money under trust, or otherwise to invest for the benefit of others, &c.

Note—If the past depressed state of the Land and Stock Market be any proof of the worst state of things, even so the re-action of their being better, is as sure a reason, under the blessings of the New Era of our political existence as a Colubby, so that a giant regains his strength after being refreshed from fatigue.

Most important and very extensive sale of Town, Suburban, Villa, and Country properties

By Mr. Stubbs.

To come off in the Saloon of the Royal Hotel, on Wednesday evening, the 24th instant, at half-past six for seven o’clock precisely, p.m., where refreshments will be provided for the company.

Mr. Stubbs has been honoured with instructions from Edward Dormer O’Reilly, Esq., Solicitor, to arrange the sale, and bring unreservedly to the hammer, on the evening above named, a most valuable portion of that gentleman’s landed possessions, available for the erection of Private Residences, Sheds, and Stores, throughout the Colony, or for Manufactory, or other purposes which the unanimous domestic industry of the colonists will shortly require, having been selected and portioned as occasion served, and on account of their situation for these purposes.

Terms of Credit—One half of the purchase money may remain secured upon the properties; for the residue, ten per cent. cash deposit; twenty per cent, at three months; and twenty per cent. at six months, without interest.

Such an opportunity as the present must of course put an end for a short period to the system of renting, as no person would think of taking leases whilst they can purchase at a cheap rate, i.e., without reserve, and upon their own securities.

The following will be the order of the Auction, viz.;—

Lot 1—All that beautiful estate, comprising twenty acres, with two story house, situated at the entrance of the Lane Cove River, formerly the property of Mr. Onions, and now let to the highly respected family of the late Dr. McLean, at £75 per annum.

Lot 2—House in Oatleigh-street, lately let at £100 per annum.

Lot 3—Sixty acres, Lane Cove.

Lot 4—Thirty acres, ditto.

Lot 5—Forty acres, North Shore.

Lot 6—Fifty-five acres, Brightoun.

Lot 7—Eight allotments (building), near the new Military Barracks, South Head Road.

Lot 8—Six allotments, near the new Courthouse.

Lot 9—Two and half acres, villa allotments, at Yavacule.

Lot 10—Thirty acres land, Liverpool Road.

Lot 11—Four valuable allotments at Goulburn.

Lot 12—Four ditto at Narabia.

Lot 13—Two ditto at Bermia.

Lot 14—Fourteen very valuable properties at Yass.

Lot 15—Two ditto at Bathurst.

Lot 16—Half-acre at Williamstown, Port Phillip.

Lot 17—Two allotments at Kiama.

Lot 18—Seven ditto at Wollongong.

Lot 19—One ditto at Maitland.

Lot 20—Two ditto at Gunning.

Lot 21—Fourteen and half acres at Violet Creek.

Lot 22—Two allotments at Albury.

Lot 23—Thirty acres at Port Aiken.

Full particulars in a future advertisement.

Mr. Stubbs would respectfully solicit the attention of the public to the consequences of this sale. Mr. Stubbs would respectfully observe that a country, such as New South Wales, boundless in extent, unequalled in climate, unparalleled in energy, untired in resources, redundant in property, countless flocks and cattle, "on a thousand hills," cannot remain long without attracting the attention, and exciting the envy of the moneyed men of the mother country, getting, as they do, only three per cent. (less the property tax of 7½ in the pound) for their money. All they want to see is confidence restored here amongst ourselves; mutual good faith and consideration for others. Then will pour in again upon us population, and what is of greater importance, the purse-strings of the influential families in England and Europe, will be unloosed again.

Notwithstanding the Colony must go ahead.
