

Libraries Australia Products

Do you want:

- copies of your records that have been updated on Libraries Australia?
- a titles list of your holdings for shelf checking?
- MARC records for your electronic collections?
- to identify resources in particular subject areas?
- to prevent collection overlap with your associated libraries?
- to know which of your holdings on Libraries Australia are unique?
- to add ANs, OCLC numbers etc. to your ILMS?

Why don't you try using Libraries Australia Products!

A product is a file of records that have been retrieved from Libraries Australia.

If you can find it in the Libraries Australia Web interface, then we can extract the records and provide a file for you in a variety of forms.

Flexible search options allow us to make your record selection as wide or narrow as you want. Variable record output formats mean that you can use the file to load records to your ILMS or print the file out to do a manual review. You can also manipulate the records in the file using programs such as Excel or Word. It is possible to limit which tags are output. You can receive a one-off file or updated files at intervals of your choice.

Products available:

Bibliographic, authority, titles list, either automated or customised, concordance files, number load files, electronic or microform collections.

Formats available:

MARC, MARCXML, bar delimited, and text
