Family History Sources

in the

Newspapers and Microforms Reading Room

of the National Library of Australia

2009
This guide will help you select microfiche and microfilm from the Open Access drawers in the Newspapers & Microforms Reading Room of the National Library of Australia.

Additional information may be given in the item entries about indexes or guides to the material, found in the Library. Information about electronic resources which may supplement or help you consult this material is also supplied.

Some items also have guides which are stored on top of the cabinets.

Some items are on closed access. Please put in a request via our online catalogue for access to these. Other items may be in the reference collection on the bookshelves or requested from the Information Desk.

Further items of interest to family historians, not on Open Access, may be found using the Library’s catalogue.

Find the entry for the item you want and then note the compartment or drawer number and the call number.
eg. Microfiche Compartment 5, Call No. mc N 1345

When you remove an item, please use the plastic markers provided to mark the place in the microfiche compartments. Noting the number of the compartment you are using may also be helpful.

After use, please return the item in its envelope to the marked place and remove the marker

HO 11 Convict Transportation Registers Database (UK Public Record Office)
The index contains the following information: name of convict, including any known aliases, place of trial, term of years, name of ship and date of departure, place of arrival, miscellaneous notes e.g. Died at sea; Ticket of Leave, etc. The records mainly include those convicted in England, Wales and Scotland. Only a small number of Irish convicts appear in this series of the Home Office records. The database also includes soldiers who had been court-martialled and sentenced to transportation. These 'soldier convicts' may have been convicted in various British colonies including the West Indies, India, Pakistan and Canada. see eResources or www.slq.qld.gov.au/info/fh/convicts.

Crime, Sentence and Trials Records

Aust. Joint Copying Project (AJCP): HO26 Criminal Registers (Middlesex only), HO 27 Criminal Registers Series II

These registers provide a one line entry giving person’s name, alleged crime and sentence and sometimes other information such as description, place of birth, when the sentence was executed and in cases of transportation, the date and to whom the prisoner was delivered.

This material is arranged by date, then by name of county. In each gaol the prisoners are recorded in order of severity of sentence ie. life sentence first, then 14 years then 7 years etc.

See AJCP handbook Part 3 Home Office on AJCP cabinets for film numbers.

AJCP microfilms are on Open Access.

General

Tasmania Collection of Records 1830s to 1930s
Records include musters, immigration, some church records to 1950, hotel licences, court, hospital, prison, land etc. Some records for Norfolk Island and New South Wales are included.
Available in eResources

General Index
This index contains a variety of references to the contents of various records. The references are mainly to people’s names but subjects are also included. Although the content of some small records are fully indexed none of the entries duplicate the other more specific indexes on the Tasmanian Archives website and there is no particular relationship between the records indexed. There are only two fields in this index – ‘description’, and ‘year’.

| Index to Convict Applications for Permission to Marry 1829-1857 | People who were convicts in Tasmania were not permitted to marry either each other or free people without approval from the Convict Department authorities. The index contains entries for most (but not all) people during the period 1829 to 1857. The actual applications have not survived and registers at Tasmanian Archives are the source for this index. These registers have a two-line entry for each application. The information listed is: applicant's surname and given name; an extra identifier (if two convicts arrived on the same ship and had the same name); the name of the ship the convict arrived on, or 'free' if the person was not a convict; the date of the application; the reference number for the application; the reference number for the marriage record if this has been included.

This index covers most available records before 1860 and some beyond that date. It is not yet complete. Copies of the records may be obtained from the Tasmanian Archives Office. Available in eResources or at http://portal.archives.tas.gov.au/menu.aspx?search=2
Inquests/Probate

Index to Wills and Letters of Administration 1824-1989
This searchable database lists records held at the Archives Office of Tasmania relating to probate including wills, 'grants of probate', and Letters of Administration up to the mid 1990s.

Index to Inquests
Records of inquests held in Tasmania vary from full files documenting the process to only the formal statements of the coronial findings. These records are being indexed to this database on a continuing basis. Those with a reference beginning with ‘SC’ are the formal statements; those beginning with ‘AGD’ are the full file; those beginning with ‘POL’ refer to the notification of the inquest in the Police Gazette.

Naturalisation

Index to Naturalisation 1835 - 1905
Index of records held by the Tasmanian Archives Office relating to the application of non British subjects for certificates of naturalisation and denization

Biographies

Biography Index
This index contains over 150,000 entries to biographical articles, notes, obituaries etc for Australian identities, with particular emphasis on Victorians, indexed from a wide variety of publications such as the 19th century illustrated newspapers. The index attempts to cover particularly the period 1860-1910. Title also given as Biographical Index of Victoria.

Convicts

Convicts were not transported directly to the colony of Port Phillip but may have arrived as Exiles or Pentonvilleans – these convicts were usually given a ticket of leave on arrival. Their names will appear in passenger lists of assisted immigrants to the colony. Convicts may also have come into the Port Phillip district from other areas as assigned servants to free settlers or as escapees.

Convicts of the Port Phillip District
RX 929.3945 C598 on Newspapers and Microform Reading Room reference shelves

Tickets of Leave and Certificates of Freedom Index, 1840-1851
Entries have been taken from the Port Phillip Herald, 1840-1846 and from the Argus for 1847-1851.

Microfiche Compartment 22; Call Number mc N 1388

Register of Convicts (VA 856) Colonial Secretary's Office, c.1842– 1854 (VPRS 110/P0)
This register contains a number of lists relating to the management of convicts in the Port Phillip District (from 1851, Victoria). Consult the index at the front of the volume for specific lists contained in it. Please note that the list for 'Runaways' was missing from the volume at the time of digitisation.

Marriage Allegations in the Registry of the Vicar-General of the Archbishop of Canterbury, 1660-1864 and Calendars of Allegations for Marriage Licences, Faculty Office, 1632-1864
Marriage by licence is a practice long established in England. The licence was issued, generally speaking, by the office which had jurisdiction over both parties. If the couple lived in different dioceses in the Province of Canterbury the licence should have been issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury's Vicar-General. If they lived in different provinces or overseas, then the licence should have been issued by the Faculty Office. Sometimes couples used a higher office then necessary.
