

SHARE AUSTRALIA'S TREASURES

National Library of Australia 2017

Don't miss this opportunity to help the National Library of Australia take Australia's treasures to new audiences.

Sharing is at the heart of the National Library's Treasures Gallery—sharing our collections with Australians, sharing new knowledge and sharing Australian stories. Our treasures are surprising, exceptional, sometimes tragic. Some of the extraordinary collection items that have been on display include: a journal of one of Australia's greatest living artists, John Olsen; a fob watch belonging to Henry Lawson; a manuscript by Miles Franklin; and the landmark papers of Edward Koiki Mabo.

While we hope all Australians will visit the Treasures Gallery in Canberra at least once in their lives, we know that this is not always possible.

You can help

The National Library is seeking funds to provide more Treasures Gallery programs so we can continue to share our treasures with everyone, wherever they are.

Your generous contribution will:

- support the development of online initiatives such as live-streaming of Treasures-related events and the addition of new treasures to the Digital Classroom (nla.gov.au/digital-classroom)
- enable students to learn about and explore Australia's treasures
- enrich audiences with extraordinary Australian stories from the National Library.

With your support,
we can share our treasures with all Australians.

Become a Library Patron

You can become a Library Patron by donating $1,000 or more. You can also become a Patron by giving regularly over time.

Patrons are recognised for their contribution through the Library's Patron Program. All Patrons are acknowledged in the Library's Annual Report and on the Library website. Additionally, all Bronze, Silver, Gold, Platinum and Principal Patrons are recognised on an Honour Board in the Library.

National Library Patrons receive invitations to exhibition openings, supporter events such as special collection viewings and annual celebrations in Canberra, Sydney and Melbourne.

Donation Form

To support the Treasures Gallery and related programs, you can donate online at nla.gov.au/support-us/treasures, or return the donation form below. Donations over $2 are tax-deductible.
